Self-guided Tours of the Forth Bridges

These self-guided walks or cycle tours of between 1km to 10km make great memories. Some of the longer walks can include a train journey across the Forth Bridge.

Start where you like, the views along the way are spectacular and second to none! Some starting points have parking with other facilities (marked).

Make sure you cross the Forth Bridge, Scotland's 6th World Heritage Site, and obtain (for a donation) your souvenir certificate.

Collect your certificate at the Forth Bridge Heritage Centre @ North Queensferry Station (or if a volunteer is not available, leave your details in the donation box and we will contact you.)

Walks Around The Forth Bridges North & South Queensferry...

Follow the suggested routes to take in the main sights. There are a few parking choices in North Queensferry: Deep Sea World, DoubleTree by Hilton, Ferry Toll Park & Ride and limited parking at NQ Station and in the old village. Parking choices in South Queensferry include Port Edgar & the Hawes Pier. Parking is also limited at the South Queensferry station - Dalmeny.

Walks from North Queensferry typically take from one to several hours to complete. Be prepared for changes in the weather and to wear walking shoes. If you pass through the Carlingnose Wildlife Reserve, keep an eye out for some rare plants such as dropwort, field gentian and lesser meadow rue, as well as birds such as terns and oystercatchers. There are two main starting points in North Queensferry: War Memorial or DoubleTree by Hilton.
Here are our self-guided walk choices, all with great views...

km	Points of interest during walks	Path
1km	War Memorial - Town Pier, Playpark, 1817 Harbour Light Tower, 13th Century St James Chapel & 1890 Forth Bridge, War Memorial.	Flat & good paths
3km	War Memorial - FBHC at NQ Station (WC 24x7), Community Centre/Play Park, FRB North - 3 Bridges View Point, B981 to War Memorial. Detours (dotted) include Ferry Loch, Doubletree Hotel, QC & FRB viewing point and the Old Railway Pier.	Many steps but good paths
3km	War Memorial - Fife Pilgrim Way/Fife Coastal Path, 1898 Gov'y Pier, 1898 Port Laing Submarine Mining Station, Inverkeithing Bay, Jamestown. Follow the walk below to get back to the War Memorial or alternatives below.	Good paths & optional off-road section
2km	Jamestown - Site of 1651 Battle of Inverkeithing, FBHC at NQ Station, War Memorial. Includes detours to the site of 1891 Golf Clubhouse and the 1824 Duel Stone.	Good paths & steps
3km	Jamestown - A9000, Queensferry Crossing & FRB viewing points, (DoubleTree by Hilton), War Memorial	Good paths

Note: The solid red path is a walk that continues across the Forth Road Bridge to South Queensferry. Return by rail from Dalmeny Station to North Queensferry Station - see inside map.

North Queensferry Peninsula Walk

If you parked at the Deep Sea World, walk west under the Forth Bridge, and continue along Old Kirk Road to the War Memorial. If you parked at the hotel DoubleTree by Hilton, walk via B981 to the War Memorial.

North Queensferry Map Key:
Red Stars: Start Points; Yellow Stars: Viewing Points
Lilac, Green, & Orange: Walk routes as per above table
Colour - broken: short detours but off-road.

Recommended Start Point - War Memorial

Starting at the War Memorial take the Fife Coastal Path & The Fife Pilgrim Way east. This Nature Walk leads through Carlingnose Wildlife Reserve past the Gov'y Pier to Port Laing. This was the site of the 1898 Submarine Mining Station, and from 1912-14 Carlingnose Naval Air Station. The coastal path then passes through coastal woodland to Inverkeithing Bay. Stay on the path when passing Cruicks Quarry and on the right, the former T.M. Wards WWI & WWII ShipBreakers Yard. At Jamestown turn left and walk up Ferryhills Road.

The Old Toll Cottage on your left, collected tolls from travellers from North Queensferry. Gallow Bank, on the right was the site of the Battle of Inverkeithing in 1651. The defeat of the Scots here was the last major battle in Scotland of the Civil Wars.
The extent of the quarry can be seen from the top of the hill. The track to the viewpoint is a little further on. Before quarrying began, Ferryhills was the original location of the Dunfermline Golf Course from 1890-1920 during which Old Tom Morris made his mark. A short detour on a field path on your right leads to the 360-degree viewpoint and the site of the 1891 Golf Clubhouse.

A plaque marking the site of the Last Duel in Fife is on the right of the track, as you walk up.
